The first and last meetings of the day are closed while all others in-between are open. Meetings are in English. Simultaneous translation into Greek will be available for several meetings (with headphones). There will also be “pop-in-pop-out” meetings as well as a workshop. The highlight of the Convention is on Saturday night with the Countdown, which follows dinner. The Convention closes with the farewell meeting on Sunday morning with the participation of the Al-Anon fellowship.

The convention registration fee for AA members is 15euros for the three days and 10euros per day for day visitors that is AA members / convention goers (this covers the use of hotel & convention facilities, translation expenses and pre-meeting tea and coffee). Full details regarding convention facilities and program will be provided upon registration.

The hotel is situated on the beach, also has pool, tennis courts, mini golf, sauna and lots of other activities in and around the hotel. Rooms have either sea or garden views and wi-fi.
